DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

- I. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, drawn to transgenic plants which produce secretory antibodies, classified in class 800, subclass 205, for example.
 - II. Claims 13-20, drawn to a method of passively immunizing a human or animal subject against a preselected ligand, comprising administering a biologically active immunoglobulin, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1, for example.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process of invention II can be practiced with another materially different product, such as immunoglobulins produced through non-recombinant methods. The transgenic plants of invention I are not necessary for the process of invention II. Furthermore, inventions I and II each require physiological and biochemical techniques and methods not required by the other. For example, the transgenic plants of invention I require molecular cloning, plant transformation and regeneration techniques not required by invention II.

Art Unit:

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
